Many online-based Bag retailers have long recognized the trend. Customers can design Bags online with a 3D configurator according to their individual ideas, e.g. as a birthday present.

In this paper we would like to analyze the potential of Bag configurators from the perspective of corresponding online providers. The core question is "Is it worth investing in a Bag configurator at this time?".

Since a Bag configurator is integrated into the website via the homepage, the focus here is on an online analysis.

In a first step, we will analyze the demand for Bag configurators with Google's Keyword Planner using various keywords. This will be followed by a trend and competitor analysis of the most important competitors, some of which will be spot-on.

Finally, an overall assessment is made on the basis of the findings.
